Community Volunteers (2013 - 2014)

Hospice Prince Edward acknowledges and celebrates its more than 100 volunteers as the heart of our organization. Many of them work directly with clients and families in the residential hospice, at home, in hospitals, and in long-term care facilities. Others provide support to people who are on a grief journey. Still others give their time and their talents to provide administrative assistance in the hospice office, and many help us raise needed funds for hospice programming.

As we move into the future, the need for hospice services and programs will continue to grow, and we know that our hospice volunteers will be there to serve this community.
